Test and treat productions that cannot be tied to a child's dialect

Other Quotes

Test results are invalid if the test taker comes from a background other than that of the test's normative sample (ASHA, 1983).

Methods used for collecting language data and the ways in which we approach their scoring and analysis should not be rooted in the majority culture (Craig, 1996).

Scoring systems that do not provide equal treatment to alternative language expressions lack validity (Vaughn-Cooke, 1983; Nelson, 1991).

New Framework: Diagnostic Conundrum

Nonmainstream dialects can appear identical to symptoms of childhood language impairments.

	Dialect Terms	SLP Deficit Terms
Tavis Ø a boy.	zero copula be	Omission
Tavis Ø walking.	Zero auxiliary be	Omission
Tavis drinkØ milk everyday.	Zero third regular	Omission
Tavis finishØ fishing.	Zero past tense	Omission
Tavis, Ø you want ice cream?	Zero do	Omission

How do we learn about our children's dialects?

Cute, fun to read

Great for celebrating dialects

Not accurate for clinical practice

African American English

Table 2-3 Characteristics of African American English Morphology and Syntax

AAL Feature/Characteristic	Mainstream American English	Sample AAE Utterance
Omission of noun possessive	That's the woman's car. It's John's pencil.	That the woman car. It John pencil.
Omission of noun plural	He has 2 boxes of apples. She gives me 5 cents.	He got 2 box of apple . She give me 5 cent .
Omission of third person singular present tense marker	She walks to school. The man works in his yard.	She walk to school. The man work in his yard.
Omission of "to be" forms such as "is, are"	She is a nice lady. They are going to a movie.	She a nice lady. They going to a movie.
Present tense "is" may be used regardless of person/number.	They are having fun. You are a smart man.	They is having fun. You is a smart man.
Utterances with "to be" may not show person number agreement with past and present forms.	You are playing ball. They are having a picnic.	You is playing ball. They is having a picnic.
Present tense forms of auxiliary "have" are omitted.	I have been here for 2 hours. He has done it again.	I been here for 2 hours. He done it again.
Past tense endings may be omitted.	He lived in California. She cracked the nut.	He live in California. She crack the nut.
Past "was" may be used regardless of number and person.	They were shopping. You were helping me.	They was shopping. You was helping me.

Spanish-Influenced English

Although nonmainstream dialects share many of the same forms, they differ in three ways:

1. Rate of use

Γ

- 2. Constraints on use
- 3. Function of use

2. Dialects Differ in their Constraints on Form Use

An Example with Forms of BE

Person, Number, & Tense: am, is, are, was, were

Contractibility: Contractible (Jan's two) vs. Uncontractible (Chris is two)

Grammatical Function: Copula (Jaya is tall) vs. Auxiliary (Jaya is running)
