

HELIX Conference
November 18, 2019
Practical Introduction to Listening and Spoken Language

Resources Handout – LSL and Related Resources

- 1.) Dr. Karen Anderson's Website: <https://successforkidswithhearingloss.com/>
 - A resource hub for Teachers of the Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing, Speech-Language Pathologists and related professionals working with students with hearing loss
- 2.) Dr. Caroline Bowen's Website: <https://www.speech-language-therapy.com/>
 - Excellent for word pictures for Minimal Pair Phonemes varying in Manner, Place, and Voicing (at initial, medial, and final positions)
- 3.) The Listening Room: <https://thelisteningroom.com/>
 - Includes early to middle school-age, teenager, and adult lessons in auditory discrimination, phrase recognition, sentence comprehension, word recognition, and more.
- 4.) ESL Fast: <https://www.eslfast.com/>
 - Small to large passages on grade level
 - Includes recorded voices for digital voice discrimination
 - Includes resource material based on the Common Core standards, which you can easily use to make progress on LSL goals (especially the Discourse and Sentence levels of the Auditory Learning Guide)
- 5.) Cochlear – Telephone Practice: <https://www.cochlear.com/us/communication-corner/program/adult-telephone.htm>
 - Excellent for students who find it difficult to talk over the phone and understand digital voices.
 - Provides daily word lists, short passages, and long passages to listen to (with printed versions of everything stated, which can be made into LSL therapy material)
- 6.) Hands and Voices: <http://www.handsandvoices.org/>
 - Advocacy group and resource for students with hearing loss and the families, especially for identifying a primary mode of communication for their child.
 - Guide-By-Your-Side: <http://www.handsandvoices.org/gbys/>