

Coffee Break for Special Education Leaders: Engaging Families in the IEP Team Meeting Process

October 14, 2020

PaTTAN's Mission

The mission of the Pennsylvania Training and Technical Assistance Network (PaTTAN) is to support the efforts and initiatives of the Bureau of Special Education, and to build the capacity of local educational agencies to serve students who receive special education services.

PDE's
Commitment to Least
Restrictive
Environment
(LRE)

Our goal for each child is to ensure Individualized Education Program (IEP) teams begin with the general education setting with the use of Supplementary Aids and Services before considering a more restrictive environment.

Culture and Special Education

The two meanings of culture:

- defining dimensions of identity of race, religion, spoken language, or ethnic background
- uniqueness of each individual school or the set of rituals, rules, values, and moral code that shapes behavior and relationships within the school building

Special education maintains its own laws, procedures, vocabulary, documents, as well as researched-based instructional methods, techniques, and strategies

Villegas & Lucas, 2002 & Deal & Peterson, 2009

Effective Communication

Before the IEP Team Meeting

Technical Aspects of Special Education for Leaders

1. Laws/Regulations
2. Disability knowledge/instructional services
3. Teacher support
4. Family Engagement

Minimize Frustration and Conflict in IEP Team Meetings

1. Experience is the best teacher
2. Suggest Agreements
3. Minimize educational jargon
4. Learn more about the families' cultures and support parents to learn school culture
5. Make sure that there is a comfortable physical environment for the IEP meeting
6. Create a contact information brochure

Family Engagement in the IEP Process

- Gather ideas from all team members
- Enlist the ongoing input and wisdom of families
- Invite families as partners in their children's learning
- Continue and expand family engagement practices
- Conduct regular check-in calls
- Use multiple methods of outreach to communicate with families
- Ensure that major communications to families are provided in their home language.

Prior to IEP Team Meetings

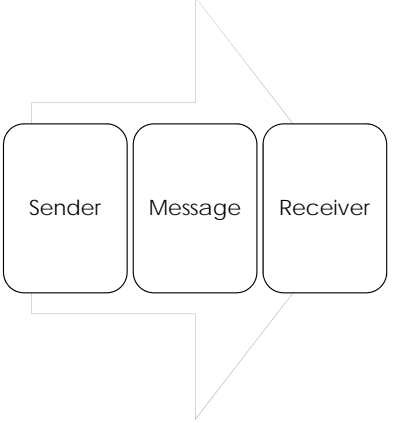

- Call to invite parents to the meeting
- Tell parents how valuable their input and contributions will be
- Accommodate parents' schedules as much as possible
- Consider transportation logistics with them, if possible
- Be prepared to welcome and encourage parents' contributions.

Effective Communication

During the IEP Team Meeting

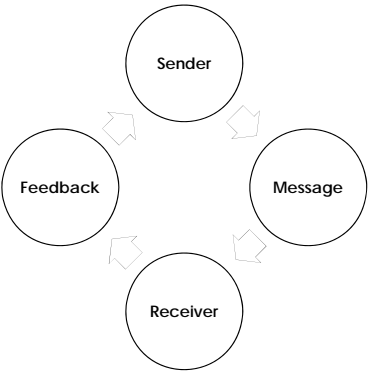

Types of Communication

One Way

A diagram showing a linear flow of communication. Three rounded rectangular boxes labeled 'Sender', 'Message', and 'Receiver' are arranged horizontally. A large, hollow arrow points from the 'Sender' box to the 'Receiver' box, passing behind the 'Message' box.

Two Way

Tips for Effective Communication During the Meeting

- Keep it positive
- Sit beside the parent
- Be aware nonverbal communication
- Share all ideas by writing them out
- Check for understanding
- Ask for parent ideas directly
- Provide clear explanations of
 - Sections of the IEP
 - Timelines
 - Team member roles & responsibilities
 - Recap of parent rights

What to Communicate

- Student progress
- Policies and procedures
- Grade-level expectations
- Families engaged as valuable allies
