

CR-PBIS: LEA Data Based Decision Making

October 21, 2016 & January 17, 2017

9:00 am – 3:00 pm

You must attend both days to receive Act 48 credit

PaTTAN-Harrisburg
PaTTAN-Pittsburgh
PaTTAN-East

This training event is designed to support selected local education agencies engaged in culturally-responsive positive behavior interventions and supports (CR-PBIS). The training will support the LEA teams' ability to use data to make sound decisions around tiered service delivery in an effort to reduce disproportionate disciplinary outcomes. Teams will review their behavior data, develop goals, and discuss strategies for addressing disproportionality in discipline.

Participants will:

- Collaborate with other CR-PBIS learning sites in data-based decision making
- Review current data and evaluate risk ratios to identify potential disproportionate disciplinary outcomes
- Develop initial and mid-year goals in reducing disproportionality in discipline
- Share successes and challenges in meeting initial and mid-year goals in CR-PBIS implementation
- Engage in collaborative inquiry around the Using Data Process (Love, 2009)
- Obtain resources and supports to use with respective CR-PBIS team members

Presenters: PaTTAN Educational Consultants

Audience: CR-PBIS LEA Grant Site Teams
